

NASHVILLE NATIVE PLANT SYMPOSIUM

MARCH 22, 2025

Educating and Inspiring Advocates for Nature Warner Park Nature Center

The Nashville Native Plant Symposium unites native plant professionals, non-profits, and home gardeners to explore the transformative power of native plants in fostering ecological health across our city and region. This collaborative event will cultivate meaningful connections and shared knowledge in a welcoming, partnership-driven space, inspiring collective action for a more sustainable future.

This inaugural event, hosted by Warner Park Nature Center, includes a one-day educational conference and optional half-day field excursions.
